Goals for today

- 1 We want you to leave today armed with additional context and research focused on:
 - Benchmarking data
 - Analytics
 - Building a foundation for growth
- 2 Connect and exchange ideas with other university leaders.
- 3 Leave with tactical and strategic ideas you can implement on your campus.

Shifting Trends for the Traditional Student Population

Changing demographics will create winners and losers in enrollment management.

The pie is shrinking, and we need to be ready.

What efforts have you taken (or plan to take) to adjust to these shifts while the sun is still shining?

Tuition and fees continue to climb with some prospective students wondering if it's worth it

Even with aggressive pricing discounts/strategies, you could be missing out on recruits as 50% of prospective students rule out a school based on sticker price alone.

How has price and discounting played a role in your enrollment strategy?

Increased channels, higher expectations, and on-demand personalization dominate student behavior trends

79 times is the average number of times a student unlocks their phone each day

81% rate their family, friends and online reviews as their top influence when deciding what to purchase

Financially savvy—debt averse

99% of parents say they are involved in the college search process

Top channels

- Website
- Email
- Social Media
- Text

Top desired content

- Academic programs
- Cost/Aid/ Scholarships
- What the community is like
- Videos

What new initiatives have you added to engage with students or parents?

How are you keeping up with content and channel expectations from students and parents?

Key takeaways

- Demographic shifts are underway, and a strong strategic plan is necessary for growth.
- The cost of an education is a detractor for some students and should be addressed in the search phase (more on the analytics of this later).
- To be competitive, we must meet students where they are and not expect them to follow the same predictable path as students in the past.
- What are other key takeaways from this session?

Leveraging Analytics to Maximize ROI

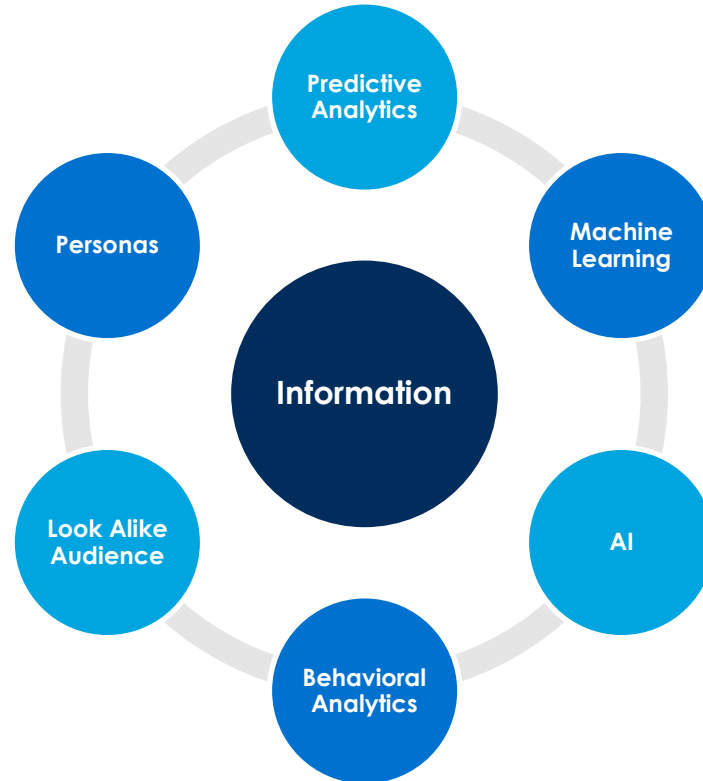

Data and analytics play an increasingly important role in forecasting, decision making, and investment strategies.

- Analytics at each stage of the funnel evaluate:
- Health of each stage beyond volume—e.g., behavior analytics help better predict the likelihood of an inquiry to apply.
- Trackable financial aid communications help predict the likelihood of a student to enroll.
- Better understanding of your funnel allows for proactive interventions instead of reactive tactics including adjustments to:
 - Communication flow
 - Territory management

The importance of multiple types of analytics

Analytics play a critical role at each stage of the enrollment funnel

Smarter Name Acquisition

SEARCH MODELING

- Predictive inquiry-to-application model
- Inform strategic decisions across all vendors and list sources

Target Search Messaging by Estimated EFC

AFFORDABILITY PREDICTOR

- A capability exclusive to RNL
- Establishes each student's likely EFC range (low, moderate, high)
- Provide more nuanced and specific aid-related outreach
- Inform affordability messaging earlier early in the cycle

Convert and Yield

INQUIRY SCORING

- Historic actuals combined with real-time engagement scoring of the inquiry pool allows for a better assessment of the inquiry pool
- Invest in the right students (time and marketing resources) through ongoing scoring

ENGAGEMENT SCORING

- Real-time behavior scoring allows for targeted messaging
- Ensure your best leads are always receiving the most attention

How do you use modeling to make decisions or set priorities?

What metrics do you use through the funnel to assess health and forecast outcomes?

Analytics are increasingly important as you build the top of our funnel

Modern search acquisition goes well beyond the traditional name buy to include digital channels, organic traffic, and top-performing lead aggregators.

Comprehensive Lead Acquisition from New and Next Sources

Not all new sources offer the same ROI. It's important to apply predictive analytics, personas, and targeting characteristics to any new source, especially digital channels.

Identify New Market Opportunities

As the high school population flattens and competition increases in your markets, demographic and socioeconomic data should be used to identify strategic growth opportunities.

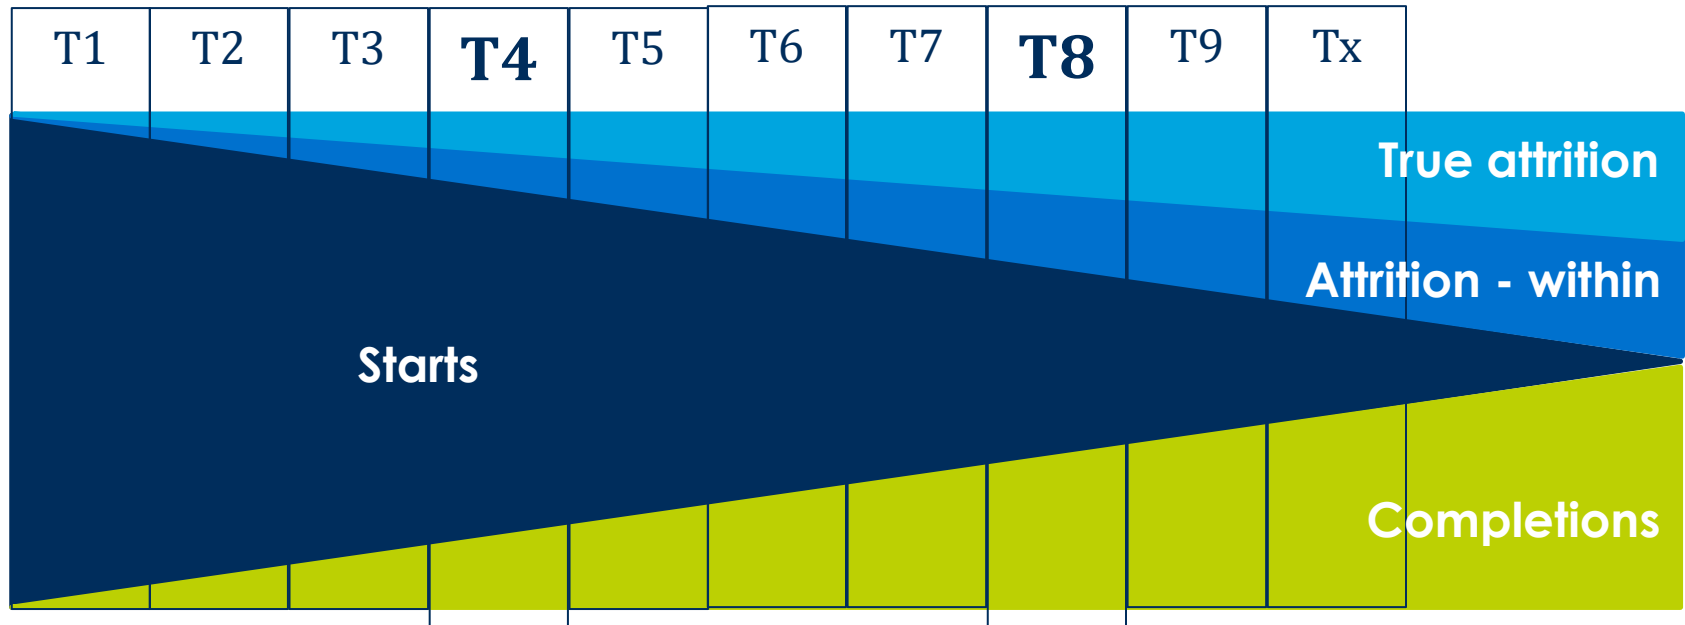

Efficiently Plan Counselor Activity

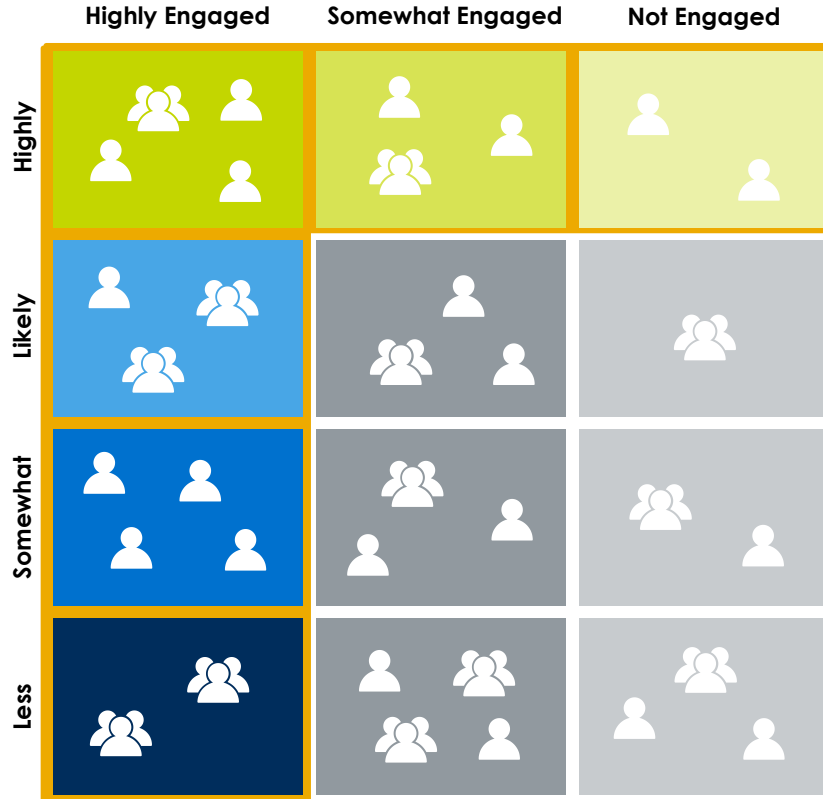

With increasing travel costs, analytics to score high schools and ZIP ranking help prioritize counselor time and strategically allocate your travel budget.

Attrition analysis is critical to the budgeting process and should drive support and intervention investments

Evaluation by term is important

Mid-funnel analytics drive communication, prioritization, and accurate forecasting.

Modeling

Inquiry, Applicant, Admit (Example)

Action: Intensify marketing outreach for the students most likely to apply and those highly engaged.

Action: Optimize channel mix and test new strategies to drive engagement.

Analytics drives strategy and content for all audiences

How do you translate data into action?

What do you wish you could better track compared to your current state?

Internal and external analytics provide context to the environment necessary for success

Three additional types of analytics for consideration

- 1 Demand / Market Share Analysis:
What are the portfolio moves that offer the greatest potential?
- 2 Employment analysis:
Who's hiring? What jobs? What skills and credentials are employers looking for?
- 3 Survey research:
Understanding market perception to find viable opportunities.

Key takeaways

- Take a fresh look at your data and ask yourself how you can positively impact results with what you already have on hand.
- Evaluate additional metrics and add new KPI's that provide value.
- Review external data to ensure you are prepared for known shifts and transitions.
- What are other key takeaways from this session?

The Growing Importance of Student Success

With the number of “new” students expected to shrink, the focus will shift to retaining our existing student population

Slowing growth in number of U.S. high school graduates, then decline (U.S. total high school graduates)

How important is student retention on campus?
Does retention receive the same level of focus and investment as recruiting new students?
Who owns retention on your campus?

When striving to increase retention for first-year students, connections, and careers dominate where campuses should focus efforts

TOP 10 PRIORITIES FOR INCOMING FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS	2020	2019

Bad financial position and pressure to earn extra money will interfere with school	23%	21%

Do you see the role of student retention and persistence changing in the next three-to-five years? Why or why not?

Key takeaways

- Retention will continue to be an important driver for institutional financial health.
- Many students start day one with challenges – either financial, social, or directional.
- Explore opportunities to identify who needs help and then layer on support systems to meet students where they are.

The Foundational Framework for Growth

Building a strong foundation for growth

Decisions driven by data and analytics

Direction guided by a comprehensive strategic plan

Culture of investment

Remember your mission

Strategic enrollment planning involves:

- Program (academic, co-curricular, services, support)
- Place (on-site, off-site, online, hybrid)
- Price and Revenue (tuition, fees, discounts, incentives)
- Promotion (marketing, recruitment, web presence)
- Purpose and Identity (mission, distinctiveness, brand)
- Process (data-informed, integrated planning)

Strategic enrollment planning

SEP is a dynamic, continuous, and scalable process

Planning for success: Building your enrollment plan to advance your mission

“...committed to excellence and distinction in the discovery, dissemination, and application of knowledge.”

“...enable our students to be productive, ethical, and socially responsible participants in the rapidly changing global marketplace.”

“...providing leading-edge management programs in a world-class, innovative, and inclusive environment throughout our regions.”

What types of strategic plans exist at your institution?

Do they help drive results?
Why or why not?

Thank you for attending!
